DAMASCUS REPORTS SYRIAN PUBLIC RESISTANCE GROUP IS RESUMING OPERATIONS

Beirut, Lebanon (AP)—Usually reliable sources in Damascus said today Syria's public resistance organization was resuming "immediate operations."

The organization was set up during the Suez crisis last year to "mobilize public forces and give civilians military training."

The Syrian government was said to have reactivated the program as a precautionary measure against what it described as "mounting U. S. anti-Syria aggressive intentions."

The Cabinet met in an urgent session yesterday, but announced no decisions. Its session followed demands in the Leftist press that the government order general mobilization, resume military training for civilians and declare martial law.

Hardship Case Immigration Bill Is Signed

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Newport, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed a hardship-case immigration bill but called it "a disappointment in that it fails to deal with many serious inequities."

The measure the President approved at his vacation headquarters provides for admittance of up to 70,000 aliens now barred from the United States. It falls far short of what he asked.

Eisenhower, in a statement, urged that Congress give careful attention to more far-reaching revision of the immigration and nationality law when the lawmakers reconvene in January.

The President said he also was disappointed that Congress did not provide for basing immigration quotas on the population census for 1950 instead of on the 1920 census as at present.

This was the first day since Eisenhower came to Newport a week ago that he did not make an early morning trip to the golf (Turn to Page Seven)

Magazine Accused Of Dragging Names Into Filthy Mire

Los Angeles (AP)—Confidential magazine dragged celebrities "through the filthy mire of gossip" for the sole purpose of making money, the prosecutor has told the jury in the criminal libel trial of the scandal publication.

Dep. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritzel said yesterday this proved to be a multimillion-dollar business.

He said publisher Robert Harrison of Confidential and "its lesser sister in sin, Whisper," had not one bit of concern whose name was blackened.

Ritzel ridiculed defense contentions that Confidential was a public service type magazine.

He said Harrison made a profit of $300,000 an issue on Confidential and boosted its circulation to nearly four million copies.

Ritzel concentrated his argument to the jury on link Confidential and Whisper with Fred and Marjorie Meade who, he said, were sent to Hollywood by Harrison as his agents.

Mrs. Meade and her husband are defendants. She is Harrison's niece.

Officials Hesitate to Comment On Death Sentence Given Boy

Harrisburg (AP)—Isiah Deuce Green, 15-year-old Philadelphia sentenced to die in the electric chair for the murder of a 75-year-old druggist would become the youngest person ever executed in Pennsylvania if the sentence is carried out within three years.

Since Pennsylvania's electric chair was first used in 1915, the youngest murderer electrocuted to date was Alexander McCloy Williams of Delaware County. He was executed in 1931 about a month and a half before his 19th birthday.

Green pleaded guilty to shooting the druggist in a Philadelphia holdup. He was sentenced Monday by Judge Byron A. Milner.

Most state officials were reluctant to comment on the Green case although at least one, Col. E. J. Henry, state police commissioner, thought it was a proper sentence. Henry said that "if they

Huge Army Dredge Sinks In Crash With Freighter

Coos Bay, Ore. (AP)—A huge Army dredge sank in Coos Bay channel last night minutes after it was rammed by a Norwegian freighter. Three members of the dredge crew died, another was missing and six were injured.

There was no casualty aboard the freighter, the 375-foot Thorshall, which was outbound for San Francisco with a crew of 35.

The dredge, the 268-foot Rosell, sank to the bottom of the shallow channel within five minutes. The prow of the freighter knifed into its port side, breaking open two of its three water-tight bulkheads.

Only hours before, the dredge crew had been presented with a plaque for two years of accident-free operation.

BALTIMORE DRENCHED

Baltimore (AP)—Baltimoreans were offered a word of cheer by water engineer Bernard Werner after torrential rains. Henceforth, said Werner, drought-borne restrictions on watering lawns and washing automobiles were abolished.

(children) are old enough to go out and deliberately kill people I see no reason why they shouldn't be dealt with the same as anybody else."

Members of the Pardon Board had similar feelings. Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman, chairman, said, "It strikes me as rather unusual but I have no thoughts about it at this time."

Genevieve Blatt, board member, said, "I would not want to seem to prejudice any case which might come before the board but anyone who knows the difference between right and wrong—regardless of age—must be held fully accountable for his actions."

The Rev. Richard T. S. Brown, a member of the State Parole Board, declared he is opposed to capital punishment "but except for the death penalty I'm for the maximum punishment that the law allows for heinous crimes."

Friendly Enemies at Little Rock

Native of Indiana to Become New YMCA Executive Secretary

Julius L. Thorn, an individual with a lifetime of experience in Young Men's Christian Association activities, has been named successor to Daniel K. Walton who resigned this year as executive secretary of Warren YMCA.

Mr. Thorn, a native of Vincennes, Indiana, will arrive in Warren in early October from his home at Indianapolis, Ind., where he was associated with the state YMCA organization, according to word today from Alan Templeton, "Y" board of directors chairman.

Married and father of two sons, the new YMCA secretary spent his boyhood in Terre Haute, Ind., later graduated from Eureka College, Eureka, Ill., where he served as assistant to the president from 1948 to 1954.

Mr. Thorn's YMCA experience includes: Youth Work Secretary, LaPorte, Ind.; General Secretary, New Castle and Marion, Ind.; Norwood, Cincinnati, Ohio; Executive Secretary Armed Services, YMCA—Camp Blanding (Starke), Fla., and Fort Leavenworth, Kan.; Associate State Secretary, State YMCA of Indiana, with special responsibilities in fund raising, student work, extension and public relations, office in Indianapolis, Ind.

Mr. Thorn has been an elder in Central Christian Church, was president of Starke, Fla., and Leavenworth, Kan. Rotary Clubs, president of Community Association of Eureka, member A. F. A. M., past worthy patrol, Order of Eastern Star, one of 40 YMCA secretaries of USA and Canada to participate in a United Nations Seminar, Nov. 1956; and secretary, Indiana Association of YMCA secretaries.

Mrs. Thorn has degrees from Indiana State Teachers College at Terre Haute and Eureka College, and is now teaching junior high school in Indianapolis.

A son, Philip, is Youth Work Secretary at Ottumwa, Iowa and the other son, George, is now in Summer Theater at Tamiment, Pa. and will continue his studies at Butler U. in Indianapolis this fall.

Tammany Hall Leader Beats Down Opposition

New York (AP)—Tammany Hall leader Carmine G. DeSapio yesterday beat down a challenge to one of his Democratic party posts—leadership of his home district.

DeSapio defeated Herman Greitzer, a lawyer, as voters throughout the state participated in primaries. No statewide office was involved.

In addition to leadership of his Greenwich Village district and of Tammany Hall, the Manhattan organization of his party, DeSapio is a Democratic national committee member and secretary of state in Gov. Averell Harriman's administration.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner, a Democrat, and Republican Robert K. Christenberry, a hotel executive, were nominated without opposition to run in the mayoral election No. 5.

DOPE PEDDLER CONVICTED

Pittsburgh (AP)—Donald Wallace, 26, of Pittsburgh, a convicted dope peddler, yesterday received a 10-to-20-year penitentiary term.

JULIUS L. THORN

Encyclical Letter By Pope XII Deals With TV and Radio

Vatican City (AP)—Pope Pius XII in an encyclical letter to bishops of the Roman Catholic Church today called upon them to organize offices similar to the Legion of Decency to coordinate church activity in the fields of radio and television.

The Legion of Decency is concerned with motion pictures and their moral and religious problems.

The letter, dated Sept. 8 and made public today, said motion pictures, radio and television should be used for the material and spiritual improvement of men's lives.

Having these "remarkable inventions," the 81-year-old Pope underlined that although they are results of men's ingenuity they are "nevertheless the gifts of God, our creator."

The 6,000-word encyclical is the first to deal with radio and television.

It follows one issued by Pope Pius XI in 1936.

DUES PROTEST MEETING

Pittsburgh (AP)—The Dues Protest Committee, formed by a dissenting group within the United Steelworkers, will hold its first national conference here Friday and Saturday. Nicholas Mamula, a committee officer, said yesterday the conference is being called not to overthrow established unionism "but to enforce the codes of ethical practices on the lawless in the American union movement." He did not elaborate.

Soviets Will Not Withdraw From Hungary

BULLETIN

United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—Britain declared today the U. N. must look to Moscow rather than Budapest to end the "brutal repression" in Hungary. British Minister of State Allan Noble told a special meeting of the 81-nation General Assembly that "this repression has only been made possible by Russia's flagrant interference in Hungary's internal affairs." For this reason, he said, the U. N. should negotiate with the Soviet Union to seek a solution. Despite a bitter Soviet attack yesterday on the U. N. attempts to help the Hungarian people, Noble expressed hope that the Russians might yet be induced to heed world opinion and withdraw their Soviet armed forces.

"Rabble Rouser" Is Held in Nashville For "Inciting Riot"

Nashville, Tenn. (AP)—Grilled Nashville policemen, determined to "stop any more trouble before it gets started," arrested segregationist John Kasper and 10 Negroes before midmorning as integrated classes resumed this morning.

Kasper, self-styled "rabble rouser" from New Jersey, was seized shortly after midnight and held in jail without bond on charges of inciting to riot. It was his third arrest here in 12 hours.

The 10 Negroes, including two juveniles, were arrested by cruising policemen near various integrated city schools. They were charged with carrying firearms.

Asst. Police Chief F. W. Muller said some of them carried pistols and some shotguns and were taken into custody within two blocks of integrated schools. Police kept all outsiders from coming any closer.

Meantime, Mayor Ben West and city school officials sought a federal injunction against the Nashville activities of Kasper, already under two federal court convictions in similar cases at integrated Clinton High School, in East Tennessee.

West said he will attempt to have Kasper's bonds canceled in the Clinton convictions, now on appeal.

The third day of integrated first grade classes, where the races mixed for the first time this week, resumed without incident but with continued sharply reduced attendance.

Police maintained roadblocks around each school, one block in each direction, to prevent outsiders from school grounds.

Two Negro Boys Are Denied Admission To Girard College

Philadelphia (AP)—Orphan's Court today rejected the applications of two Negro boys to Girard College and, at the same time, removed the Board of City Trusts as trustees of the private school.

The action came in the wake of a U. S. Supreme Court ruling which directed that Negroes cannot be barred from the school created under the will of Stephen Girard, colonial merchant and philanthropist, as long as it is administered by a public agency—the Board of City Trusts.

The nation's highest tribunal said refusal to admit Negroes—despite a stipulation by Girard that the school be established only for "poor, male white fatherless boys"—was in violation of the 14th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

The Orphans Court ruling stipulated that the Board of City Trusts will remain as trustee until the court names a substitute.

Applications for admission to the college had been made by William A. Foust and Robert Feider. They had been represented legally in their long fight to go to Girard by Atty. Raymond Pace Alexander Negro city councilman.

Hurricane Is Showing Signs of Weakening

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Carrie held close to its position, 1,825 miles east-southeast, of Miami, today and the U. S. Weather Bureau said the storm showed signs of weakening.

The Weather Bureau's advisory issued at 5 a. m. EST said the weakening was expected to be "temporary" and little overall change was expected in size or intensity during the following 12 hours.

Future movement of the storm was uncertain, the Weather Bureau said, but Carrie was expected to move toward a northwesterly direction at about five miles an hour.

That would be a slight change in direction from that set for the storm last night.

Forecasters H. W. Davis said if the hurricane completed a turn to the north it would find several hundreds of miles of open water and "that would be the end of it."

Few Widely Scattered Showers in the Offing

By The Associated Press
Extended forecast for Thursday, Sept. 12, through Monday, Sept. 16.

Western Pennsylvania, western New York and West Virginia: Temperatures will average 3 to 7 degrees above normal with little change until it turns cooler Sunday and Monday. A few widely scattered showers becoming more general Saturday and Sunday with total precipitation ½ to 1 inch or heavier.

NASHVILLE, TENN., POLICE CLAMP BAN ON SEGREGATION DEMONSTRATIONS IN CITY

BULLETIN

Little Rock, Ark. (AP)—An administrative assistant to Gov. Orval Faubus said that all the governor's engagements for today had been canceled because Faubus was extremely tired. "There's nothing wrong, he's not sick, just tired and run down from the strain he's been under," Tommy H. Russell, the governor's aide, said. "He decided to take one day of complete rest," Russell added.

An earlier report from a source who refused to be quoted by name was that Faubus was ill. The engagements canceled included one for an hour-long radio interview in which Faubus would have answered questions telephoned in by listeners throughout the state. Faubus has been keeping long hours since a week ago Monday night, when he called out the Arkansas National Guard and ordered it to prevent violence and keep Negroes out of Little Rock's all-white Central High School.

By The Associated Press

The U. S. government served a summons on Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas and police clamped a ban on segregation demonstrations in Nashville, Tenn., in actions authorities hoped would ease racial tensions today in these Southern trouble spots.

A Negro leader in Birmingham, Ala., said Negroes there would cease further attempts to enroll in white schools at this time.

The legal crackdowns followed a day marked by the dynamiting of a newly integrated grammar school at Nashville, the arrest of Northern segregationist John Kasper and 27 others, and a bomb threat at a Birmingham school. No explosives were found at that school, however.

In Little Rock, Ark., Faubus accepted service of a summons to appear Sept. 20 in federal court to answer charges that he is obstructing racial integration by keeping National Guard troops around Little Rock's Central High School.

The governor, however, would not say whether he would appear personally in court at the hearing on the government's plea for a temporary injunction against him.

Faubus told a press conference at the capitol later that a reduced force of National Guardsmen would continue to surround the high school and prevent Negroes from enrolling. He said he cut the number of guardsmen from 200 to about 100 because tensions have lessened.

Areas around Central High and North Little Rock High, where six Negroes were turned away Monday, were relatively quiet yesterday. An effigy of a Negro was hung at North Little Rock and a Negro reporter was escorted away from a crowd at Central High by National Guardsmen.

The North Little Rock school board met late yesterday and denied a petition by the parents of seven Negro seniors seeking to enroll in the city's all-white high school.

State Insurance Brokers and Agents Are Made Public

Harrisburg (AP)—Andrew M. Bradley, property and supplies secretary, today made public for the first time a list of brokers and agents who received commissions on state insurance business during 1956.

At the same time, Bradley said insurance and bonding programs by the present Democratic administration saved the commonwealth $200,000 a year.

Last week, Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, Republican Senate president pro tempore and an insurance agent himself, called on Gov. Leader to make the list public.

Bradley said that none of the insurance commissions involving commonwealth, Pennsylvania (Turn to Page Seven)

Pennsylvania Girding Itself For Expected Outbreak of Flu

By ARNOLD McKAY
Harrisburg (AP)—Pennsylvania is girding itself for the expected outbreak of Asian flu.

Preparations, as of today, are largely of the local and county level. The state holds that the problem since its inception has been one best dealt with privately. Indeed, even in the counties, the groups that have things rolling seem not to be governmental.

Protection against an epidemic, officials say, is beset by so many variables and imponderables that it is hard, if not impossible to predict what the overall outcome will be. However, everyone agrees that preventive measures will result in fewer cases.

The main imponderables: When will the flu hit? Where will it hit? Whom will it hit?

Dr. William D. Sorack Jr., director of the State Health Department's Division of Communicable Diseases, is no more inclined to go out on a limb than are other responsible health officials. But he does quote statistics, and they indicate:

1. The highest incidence probably will be between late November and the end of January, possibly into March.

2. An epidemic could—but is not likely to—hit most of Pennsylvania's 11 million citizens.

3. It could hit in patches or it could blanket the state.

A good indication of what is being done in some of the counties was given by Dr. James E. Apple of Lancaster, a trustee of the American Medical Assn. and a member of the AMA's national committee on influenza.

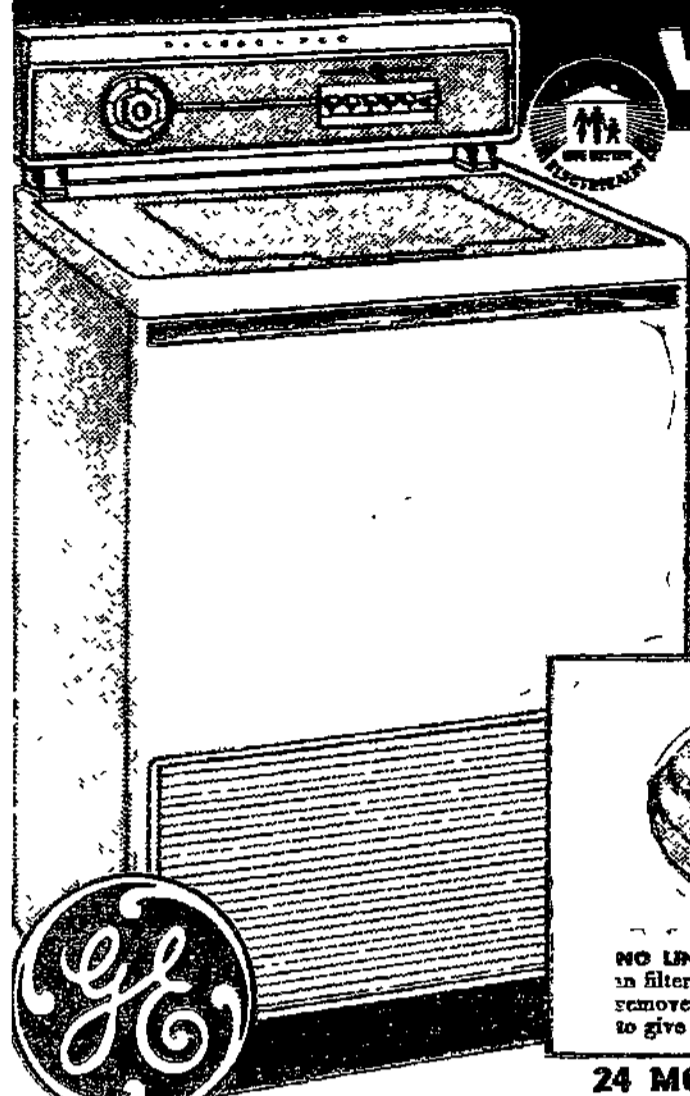

Things got started when the county medical society convinced representatives from business, labor, industry, medicine and government to form a "flu committee." The outgrowth was the formation of two other committees. Together they get things done.

Conewango Supervisors Study New Ordinances Providing for General Welfare of Township

Conewango Township supervisors at their meeting next Monday plan to adopt ordinances regulating such items as littering, loitering and peddling, and at the same time create a township planning commission and police pension plan.

Thirty sections of the proposed ordinances, which were printed in full in the Times-Mirror (page ten) last Friday, call for the maintenance of peace and order, the control of disorderly conduct and protection and promotion of safety and general welfare of township persons and property. If passed, the ordinance shall stipulate that effective Saturday, Sept. 21, the 30 sections will provide for:

No shooting of any type firearm or carrying of concealed deadly weapon except as authorized by state law; no fireworks sale or use (including sparklers) except as authorized; no indecent exhibitions, signs or gestures; no gaming houses; no signs without permission; no wrongful fights; no drunken conditions; no unseemly disturbances near neighbors; no loitering or obstructions to travel; no unregistered, out-of-working-order autos within 100 feet of highway unless completely obscured; no accumulations of garbage or junk on private lands unless a person is specifically in that business; no discarding of trash from motor vehicles upon highways; no dogs barking unduly or running at large; no signs obstructing traffic of any type; no distorting marks on signs or fences; no impersonation of officers nor obstruction of their duty.

No transporting ashes, etc. except when wetted to prevent scattering; no drum beating, loud speaking, etc. to attract business; no loud radio playing where disturbing to others; no peddling except of home grown vegetables or other products, with fines not to exceed $500, costs, or 30 days.

The supervisors also contemplate formation of a 5-member planning commission and establishment of a police pension plan and fund with retirement benefits accruing after 20 years continuous service when any member of the police force reaches age 60. Revenue will come from state tax on casualty insurance.

TODAY is pay day for all who have classified ads.

HEART BOARD

The executive board of Warren County Heart Association will hold its regular monthly meeting Thursday in Warren General Hospital library and all members are urged to be in attendance.

POLIO REPORT

A Harrisburg dispatch reports the health Department as saying that it has recorded 38 cases of polio to date for 1957, under half of the 91 listed through last September 10. For the same period of 1955 the total was 437.

SOME EMBARRASSMENT

Participants in an accident Sunday near Irvine overhead would like to have it known that they were headed for work at 3:30 in the afternoon and not out joyriding at 3:30 in the morning as the item intimated. Zambrik and Danuski were the operators.

FOUR EMERGENCIES

LOST HOMING PIGEON

A homing pigeon has found its way to the top of Russell street in the 200 block where he has been lodging for a week or ten days. The feathered creature has a band on its leg, but no one can get close enough to it to read what it says. If you have lost a pigeon or know of somebody who has, it might prove to be a fruitful trip to Russell street to investigate.

RAINY MISHAP

A $25 gash on a maple tree was inflicted early today when a driver skidded on rain-soaked Willoughby Street. According to city police, Vic Hendrickson of 21 Timothy Avenue, North Warren, was heading west on Willoughby when his machine skidded on the wet street during the rain shortly after 1 a. m. Damage was $200 to the car, and $25 to the tree in front of 106 Willoughby.

CONSUMER PRICES

A Harrisburg dispatch says the state index of consumer prices reached an all-time high during the second quarter of the year, the Labor and Industry Department reports. The department yesterday placed the April-July index at 119.9 per cent of the 1947-49 base or 1.3 points higher than the first quarter record. Most of the increase was due to seasonably higher food prices although all major groups of goods and services cost more except transportation.

CARRIER AGREEMENT

According to the Jamestown Sun the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington has approved an agreement between motor common carriers serving Jamestown area furniture manufacturers. Effective date is Oct. 18. Sixteen carriers are members of the Jamestown Area Furniture Haulers Association, Inc., which would maintain uniform rates and operating practices among the carriers for furniture shipped from plants in Chautauque and Cattaraugus counties, and in Warren, Pa. The commission said it was approving the agreement because it allows the carriers to take independent action either before or after any determination made by the association.

Eight From County Exhibit Calves At Dist. Dairy Show

Eight 4-H Dairy Club members from Warren County exhibited their 4-H calves at the Northwest District Junior Dairy Show held at the Meadville Fair Grounds on Saturday, September 7, according to word received from the Agricultural Extension Office.

Competition at this show is extremely keen with top animals in all breeds of dairy cattle coming from ten counties. Bernard Wingert, associate county agent of Warren County, reports that two Jersey animals were placed in the blue ribbon class. They were owned by Miss Amy Curtis of Columbus. Blue ribbon animals are eligible to enter the State Show at Harrisburg on September 19.

Other placings in the show were as follows: Gale Johnson and Roger Woodin, both from Lottsville and both showing Guernseys, won white ribbons. Kenneth Downey and Nancy Curtis of Columbus won red and white ribbons respectively in the Jersey classes. Charles Lindell from Lander and Dale Martin of Youngville showed Holsteins and won red ribbons. Billy Martin, Youngville, won a white ribbon with his Holstein entry. These animals were shown at the Youngville Fair last week along with other county 4-H calves at the County Roundup. Only purebred calves are eligible to enter district shows. Other members showing at the county roundup were Alan and Gilbert Scott from Lottsville and Judy Powell of Wrightsville.

At the county roundup Kenneth Downey was named champion showman. He was also high runner-up at the District Show placing 6th out of over 100 showmen. Amy Curtis was reserve champion showman at Youngville and Gale Johnson won top awards as champion fitter.

Trophies and ribbons as well as cash awards are won at County 4-H events and are provided by the county banks, interested businessmen, county breeding organizations, and other friends of 4-H. Roscliffe Farms, Irvine, provided trucking of the animals to and from the District Show.

According to Wingert the support provided by the banks and interested persons in the 4-H program is paying the way for an even greater increase in the number of young people enrolled in 4-H projects both in home economics and agriculture.

STEELERS BUY HALFBACK

Ligonier (P)—The Pittsburgh Steelers yesterday purchased veteran halfback Earl Jug Girard from the Baltimore Colts for an undisclosed sum and released two players. Girard is in his 10th National Football League season. A former Wisconsin star, he played for the Green Bay Packers and Detroit Lions before being traded to the Colts last winter. Cut from the Steeler squad were halfback Curley Johnson from the University of Houston and fullback Lionel Reed from Central State of Wilberforce, Ohio.

Beaty Junior High Activities

A new school year began last week with new students, new teachers, and some new books. But most outstanding are Beaty's new subjects—eighth grade algebra, taught by Miss Bosler and Miss Anderson, and Mr. Campbell's new dramatic classes.

Along with class period changes, there have been changes made in our cafeteria. Because of the decrease in student enrollment this year compared to last year, the original three lunch periods have replaced last year's four.

The seventh grade students who are not accustomed to an excellent library so close at hand, are receiving instruction from Miss Henderson, our school librarian. They have been taught how to use our library and the public library by visiting and using both.

Although student activities will not begin until the middle of October, one organization started the first day of school. Every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday, first period, the Beaty newspaper staff meets with Mrs. Meredith Johnson in room 212. The staff was honored when requested to write a weekly column for the Times-Mirror, but continues to work diligently on publishing its monthly newspaper, The Match.

Witnessing a Miracle

By JOSEPH ALSOP

Czestochowa, Poland—Properly speaking, the miracle of Jasna Gora, the great monastery of "The Bright Mountain" took place 301 years ago.

On that occasion, the monks and a few score of Polish men-at-arms held and hurled back 10,000 Swedish troops who besieged the monastery's bastioned walls through a long, bitter winter month. The victory was credited to Jasna Gora's precious Virgin-image, long ago chance-brought out of late Byzantium into these wild Polish marches.

I do not think there was any higher intervention; but I too witnessed a miracle at Jasna Gora just the other day. It was not easy to define, being the peculiar combination of a theme, a ceremony, a crowd and a man. Yet it seemed to me decidedly miraculous.

Imagine, then, a high hill swelling upwards from the suburbs of a dreary little industrial town. A broad way leads through trees to the hill's summit. And here there is the beginning of the miracle.

The summit has been levelled, to make a gigantic plaza three times larger than the great plaza of St. Peter's. Only a single column bearing Christ with his thorny crown, interrupts this vast, flat expanse. And the full expanse is filled, as though by a fantastic human inundation, by a single continuous sea of people and children,

Science Shrinks Piles

New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinking) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H. At your druggist. Money back guarantee.

literally hundreds of thousands of them. And all gaze toward the towering church, rising in a surge of baroque pinnacles from the same tall bastions that the monks held against the Swedes.

Suddenly, along the battlements, the long procession of the Eucharist winds its way, banner after banner, choir after choir. A monk stationed by the high temporary altar, erected on the church-front, gives a signal through a loud-speaker. The crowd burst, full-throated, into the hymn recounting Jasna Gora's miracle, "On the Heights of Czestochowa."

For a long hour the people stand, singing hymn after hymn and watching the platform round the altar gradually fill with the churchmen of the procession. Last come the Bishops of Poland, splendid in their vestments of rich mitres. Alas, a closer view reveals chasubles sadly confected of old lace curtains and capes made of the shoddy silk of Communist Peking. The Church in Poland today is not rich in this world's goods.

Suddenly there is a hush. Stefan, Cardinal Wyszynski quietly takes his place under the scarlet canopy that stands by the altar's sides. The wise eyes in the pale, ascetic face briefly survey the scene. Music breaks the silence and Baranjak, Archbishop of Poznan—that place name heavy with memories—begins the celebration of the mass. The crowd joins the responses as though this were a single Paris church holding hundreds instead of hundreds of thousands; and after consecration of the host the whole multitude sinks to its knees.

When the mass is ended, the Cardinal enters the pulpit and again there is a moment of silence while he stands, vividly outlined against the white draperies, a commanding figure in brilliant scarlet. Then he speaks, telling the story of Poland's dedication to the Virgin Mary by King Jan Kazimierz, and saying that this is a time to renew the dedication with an oath. And slowly, in a strong masculine voice, he repeats the oath.

It is a curious oath, resembling a set of New Year's resolutions on a national scale. One catches echoes of certain exhortations to the people by Poland's Communist government in Warsaw—exhortations against the absenteeism that afflicts industry, the alcoholism that is a curse in this country, the disorderliness and lack of discipline that has appeared here since freedom returned. But whether or no the crowd also catches these echoes, all follow the Cardinal when he asks them to repeat after him:

"We swear to thee, Mary, Queen of Poland, we swear to thee!"

Then the slender hand is raised in blessing. At a signal, with a passion that fills the hilltop air, the whole multitude breaks into Poland's battle hymn, "Great God Through Ages Protector of This Polish Land." And so the morning comes to an end; and the sea of people flows away again, to picnic in the sunshine and queue up by thousands to say their prayers before Jasna Gora's Virgin image.

But in the dusk, when the enormous bulk of the fortress monastery shows black against the evening sky, the sea of people flows back into the plaza, more numerous than ever. Here and there candles shielded by workworn hands made points of twinkling light. Once again the old hymns sound out while the procession wind along the battlements. Once again, when the service begins, all these hundreds of thousands join together in chanting the litany to the Virgin. And this time, the Cardinal himself preaches to his people. The sermon is not unlike the morning oath, pressing the government a little on such contentious points as the difficult situation of Poland's Catholic press, but above all exhorting the people to be good citizens, even exhorting the miners to bring up more coal.

"You must understand," the Cardinal tells the listening thousands, "that what could not be destroyed by erroneous political doctrine can still be ruined by national demoralization. You are a generation of heroes, and to you God has given a serious duty—not to lose what was saved by the blood of your fathers."

So the sermon ends. Once more, with the same strange, resonant passion, the whole multitude sings Poland's battle hymn. And then all is over and it is time to journey homeward through the night. Such was this modern miracle of Jasna Gora. If you think about it, it says a good deal about this new Poland whose two leaders, linked in unlikely partnership, are the brave veteran Communist, Wladyslaw Gomulka and the brave Prince of the Church, Stefan, Cardinal Wyszynski.

WEST SHUTS OUT
DUMMY'S LEAD

Sidney Lazard of New Orleans and Dr. John Fisher of Dallas won both the Men's A Pairs and the Open both the Men's Pairs and the Open Pairs at the Texas Regionals. Today's hand shows Sidney on defense.

He decided to open a trump. It seemed most unlikely from the bidding that this lead could cost him a trick and any other opening had elements of danger.

East won with the ace and promptly returned the deuce of hearts. South played the king. Sidney won with the ace and returned the jack.

Naturally, South won that trick with the queen. His next play was to lay down the king of clubs. Then the six of diamonds was placed on the table and it was up to Sidney to come through with the winning play.

An unthinking player might well have ducked that diamond lead but no Sidney. He took a little time to count the hand. John's deuce of hearts lead had shown four so that declarer was marked with three cards in that suit. It seemed most likely that he held at least seven spades so that left only three cards for the minor suits. The club king had already shown up so he could not hold more than two diamonds.

If he held exactly two diamonds and the other one was the king it was necessary to play the ace to block him out of dummy. Sidney did play the ace and eventually declarer had to lose his six of hearts and go down one trick.

I asked Sidney what he would have done if South had played the king instead of a low diamond. He replied that he had made up his mind to play declarer for seven spades, three hearts, two diamonds and a club and therefore would have let the king of diamonds hold and shut declarer out of dummy that way.

Sheffield Auxiliary Begins Fall Schedule

Sheffield—Mrs. E. R. Ayers, president, was in charge of the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary held in the Post Home Monday evening and attended by 20 members.

Mae Magnusson, elected as incoming secretary, tendered her resignation and was succeeded by Mrs. Ayers.

Mrs. Evelyn P. Gailor gave a report on the Auxiliary's state convention in Harrisburg in August. A donation was voted to Cruiser Olympia Association, Inc. to help save the flagship Olympia from the scrapheap. The cruiser was commissioned in San Francisco in 1895, and served with distinction in the war with Spain, and in World War I. Her last service was to bring back the body of the Unknown Soldier from France for burial in Arlington National Cemetery. Since then it has been decommissioned, moored at the Philadelphia Naval Base and forgotten. Until patriotic organizations formed a committee to save her from the scrap pile three years ago.

The new officers will be installed at the Inter-County Council meeting in Sheffield on October 26. The white mule was won by Mrs. Anna Nelson, Brookston.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Blenda Hinkley and committee.

FARRAHETTE MEETING

First fall meeting of the Farrahettes will be held at 8:00 p. m. Thursday in the Grotto rooms and a good turnout is asked.

MYF RESUMES

Lander—The Methodist Youth Fellowship held its first regular Sunday evening service at 7:30 p. m. this past Sunday. In attendance were 25 young people and their leaders, Ruth Mills and Joan Mahan with the Rev. and Mrs. John Ruggiero.

Larry Ludwick was in charge reading the scripture and offering prayer, leading singing of several hymns and presenting the pastor who spoke on "Good and Bad Habits".

The MYF is planning a fine program for the winter months, activities that will be of interest to all young people of the community. On Friday evening of this week, 7:30 o'clock, the group will have a social to which all youth in the community is cordially invited.

BIRTHDAY EVENT

Lander—Nancy Shaffer, whose birthday anniversary is September 10, was honored guest Saturday evening, when 15 classmates came to help her celebrate the milestone. Games were enjoyed, the honored one was presented lovely gifts in remembrance of the occasion, and refreshments were served to conclude a pleasant evening.

Miss Shaffer, who broke her leg in June, is able to be about in a wheelchair part of the time.

EXTENSION GROUP

Lander—All women of the community interested are asked to be on hand for the planning-meeting of the Home Extension Group at the home of Mrs. John Olds at 1:30 p. m. next Monday.

Elegant Long, Evening Gloves for Fall

Dedication of Chimes At Russell Methodist

Russell—A special service will be held in the Methodist church at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, September 15 for presentation and dedication of the beautiful new chimes given by the community in memory of the late Dr. C. H. Vermilyea.

The Rev. Harold Knappenberger, Sr., superintendent of the James-town District of Methodist churches, will be heard as guest speaker, and all are cordially invited.

A number of other improvements to the church will also be dedicated during this service.

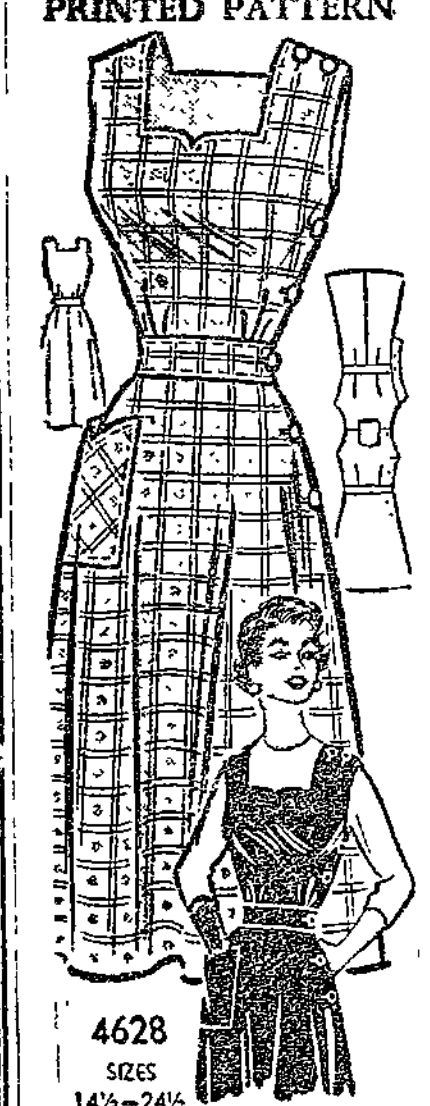

Picnic-Party Honoring Volunteers at Hospital

Plans are being completed today by Mrs. John Urbatis, director of Volunteer Workers at Warren State Hospital, for the picnic-party to be given Thursday noon in honor of the Volunteers on the South Lawn at the Hospital.

At this time, Mrs. Urbatis will announce plans for the formation of a new Volunteers' Class, to start in October, opening the door for many other Warren county women (and men as well) to enter this field of endeavor at the hospital on a part-time basis.

During Thursday's event, recognition will be given to Mrs. Floyd W. Bathurst, Mrs. Harold D. Baker, Mrs. Thomas J. Donnelly and Mrs. Ralph Newhall, who have given 100 hours of service for the second consecutive year. They were

Best Age for Girl to Wed Is in Her Early Twenties

WHEN Princess Margaret recently celebrated her 27th birthday without a husband in sight, British writers loyally pointed out that the princess still has plenty of time to find her Prince Charming and that, after all, many a woman is her most attractive self in her late 20's.

But the fact remains that from a marriage point of view the princess is "getting on." The small circle of eligible bachelors that has fluttered around her is thinning out as more and more of them are led to the altar by other girls. Her field of choice is becoming more limited with each year.

It can even happen to a princess—this waiting around to marry until the cream of the crop has been plucked.

It happens often to American girls, particularly the ones with career ambitions.

While career-minded girls are glorying in making their own way up the success ladder, girls who realize that the best husband-hunting years are limited grab off the eligible men.

TOO LATE

NOT until they begin to notice that the telephone doesn't ring as often as it used to, that the mail is bringing baby announcements from friends their own age do the career girls begin to wonder if they haven't put off thinking about marriage too long. Be she a rising young career girl—or even a princess—a girl's best friend so far as marriage is concerned is her early 20's. Before that she isn't likely to have enough judgment to know whether a young man will make a good husband.

After that, she all too often discovers that the best husband material is already firmly hooked. It doesn't much matter why a girl lets her best marrying years slip away from her. The end of the story is usually the same.

The girl who doesn't take advantage of best marrying years either slips into spinsterhood or takes a husband from what is left after the more enterprising young women have chosen.

Slap-Dash Nail Care Spoils Look

THE teen-ager who uses nail polish is likely to be the girl most interested in looking pretty. But there are a lot of exceptions to this.

If there's dirt under that coat of polish, she's slipped in her grooming. If the polish is worn, chipped, cracked or other than glossy perfection, she's better off without it.

If she's let her nails grow to absurd lengths, she's showing off claws, not hands. (Most boys hate long nails.) If she uses a bloody or too-bright shade of polish, she'll find people regarding her nails with something akin to horror.

To get the most mileage from a bottle of polish, pick a pretty, soft shade. Remove the old polish, use a hand brush vigorously, then clean and file the nails (Don't file them down at the sides; this causes hangnails.) Apply a base coat, two thin coats of polish and a sealer. Allow at least an hour for the polish to dry.

THE girl who takes a shower or bath daily (or twice daily) and neglects to change her lingerie daily is kidding herself.

Soiled lingerie next to a clean skin doesn't make sense. It's a wise idea to make a regular habit of putting girdle, bra and slip into a basin of soapy water as you step into the shower. Finish sud-ding the lingerie when you step onto the bath mat.

Just a few minutes' soaking period is enough for most lingerie. Roll it in a towel, hang it to dry and it's ready when you need it.

Incidentally, lingerie that's washed after each wearing will last longer and give you better service than lingerie whose fibers are weakened by dirt.

SKIMPING on food in order to buy more clothes is one fast way for a girl to undermine her health.

The career girl who tries to get by on a doughnut and coffee in the morning, a hamburger and soft drink at noon, a can of soup and a sandwich at night, is asking for trouble.

She needs three balanced meals a day to keep her hair, her skin, her nails, her teeth and eyes at their best. She needs good food for sound health.

It's far better to budget clothes money very wisely, to figure out at the beginning of each season what she can buy and to have a few good clothes rather than a jammed closet.

By shopping carefully, a girl can build a basic wardrobe to which she can add new fashions each season.

Republican Leaders in Greensburg For Conference Today

Greensburg (P)—Several top Pennsylvania Republican leaders arrived here today for the second in a series of state-wide GOP meetings aimed at generating interest in the Nov. 5 elections. The all-day session at the Mountain View Hotel, just east of Greensburg, is sponsored by the southwestern Pennsylvania Political Activities Conference of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women.

A similar meeting was held in Warren yesterday and Monday. Local GOP leaders in northwestern Pennsylvania were urged to strengthen their organizations and set out a big vote.

Main speaker on today's program was John R. Brown Sr., eastern regional director for the National Republican Congressional Committee.

Other listed speakers included George I. Bloom, state chairman; Jaynelle Dixon, member of the national committee; Ruth G. Penzell, state vice chairman; Katherine Martindale, president of the women's council; and Jay Cooke, National committeeman.

LATE SOCIETY ITEMS

PASTOR'S RECEPTION
Youngsville—The EUB church will have a reception Thursday evening for the Rev. F. Eugene Donelson and family, returned to the parish for another year. All members and friends are invited to share in the tureen supper at 6:15, bringing their own table service and a tureen.

Following the reception, Christian Service Guild will hold its regular meeting at 8:00. This is Every Member Present Month and all are reminded the project is bringing of old sheets for making pads for bedridden patients of the community. The theme will be "Strengthen the Church Through Prayer," with Mrs. Jean McKinney, leader, assisted by Mrs. Caroline Nyberg. Assisting the hostess will be Treva McKinney and Mrs. Ruth Land.

Rehabilitation Needs of Post-Polio Patients is Under Study

A countywide survey to discover the current rehabilitation needs of all post-polio patients is being conducted this month by the Warren County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Clarence O. Swanson, chapter chairman, announced today.

The local survey is part of a nationwide project by the National Foundation to compile a roster of polio cases of all ages and degree of disability, regardless of date of onset. The canvass here is to be completed by Sept. 30.

"Modern medicine has made impressive strides in developing new rehabilitation techniques in recent years," Mr. Swanson said. "Polio surveys already undertaken show that there are thousands of polio-handicapped in the United States who have not yet had an opportunity for medical evaluation to determine if they might benefit from these new techniques."

"Some of the techniques employed today for those disabled by polio and other causes were unknown or unused as recently as 10 or even five years ago."

"The March of Dimes organization, having scored a tremendous victory in its war on polio, does not now propose to walk off and leave the wounded behind, so long as help for them is possible. We wish to know what their special problems may be, so that they may be helped to regain useful lives, if humanly possible."

Mr. Swanson said that the roster was to be made in close co-operation with the Warren County Medical Society and member physicians. The Department of Public Welfare, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, State Crippled Children's Service and county school systems also will cooperate. Information sought for each patient includes whether he is employed or attends school, if he can climb stairs and dress himself, whether he receives regular treatment and if he uses a respiratory aid. Information gained will be helpful to all such agencies and organizations.

Mr. Swanson asked that all persons who have ever had polio—whether disabled or not—send their names and addresses directly to Mrs. T. J. Crozier, Survey Director, Warren County Chapter, NFIP, 464 Prospect street, Warren, Pa., or phone 592-M.

CHAUTAUQUA ELECTION

Jamestown Sun: A half dozen incumbents in Republican ranks were defeated Tuesday in Primary Day contests in Chautauqua County. Upsets were two incumbents each in the Towns of North Harmony and Carroll and one each in Town of Gerry and Town of Sheridan. In the latter case, Ford Tucker, who has served 32 years as town clerk with no previous opposition, was beaten by Harold R. Gloss. Interest was extremely high in the Town of Ellicott where voters turned out in large numbers to cast ballots in three Republican contests. Winners there were Frederick E. Mattison for supervisor; Clive L. Wright, Jr. for justice of the peace; Charles E. Goodell for councilman. Jamestown was quiet as city elections are on a non-partisan basis with only activity for county office on the party system. Only two county contests were on the agenda, with both parties unopposed. They were Republican incumbent Robert H. Miller, county treasurer, and Nathaniel Y. Elliott, county clerk. Democrats opposing them are Inez Wasmund of Route 1, Fredonia, and Andrew M. Leber of Bemus Point. The latter two also are candidates on the Liberal ticket.

INDICTED—Martha Dodd Stern and her husband, Alfred, shown with their son, Robert, 12, at a press conference in Prague, Czechoslovakia, have been indicted as agents of a Soviet spy ring. The Sterns were indicted on testimony by counter agent Boris Morros, who gave up his movie directing career for 12 years to spy on Russian agents. A federal grand jury in New York said the Sterns financed a music company which served as a "cover" for Soviet spies. The couple has renounced U.S. citizenship and claimed Paraguayan passports. They were last seen in Czechoslovakia in August.

Integration

public classroom color barriers still intact today.

And in several of them, the practice is under strong legal attack.

Integration has proceeded inward from the border states. White and Negro pupils now sit in the same classrooms in at least some schools in Arkansas, Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

But the Southern School News reports in its latest edition that while 738 school districts have begun or accomplished desegregation since 1954, there remain 2,300 "biracial districts still tightly segregated." Southern School News is the publication of the Southern Education Reporting Service, a fact-finding agency created to compile information on developments arising from the Supreme Court decree.

Most of those 2,300 districts are, of course, in the Deep South states, but segregation areas also remain in virtually all of the border states, contributing to the spottiness of the over-all picture.

Atty. Gen. Brownell again regarding the Little Rock, Ark., school integration case.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Brownell reported no change since the government moved yesterday for an injunction.

Hagerty earlier had indicated that Eisenhower plans a policy of patient waiting in government efforts to resolve the Little Rock crisis.

The Justice Department moved yesterday—in applying for a court injunction—to keep Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus from interfering with court-ordered mingling of white and Negro students at Little Rock's Central High School.

As for the immigration bill, it is the last of a big batch of measures sent to Eisenhower's desk in the waning days of the congressional session which ended Aug. 30.

Nashville

Nashville police imposed a clampdown on segregation demonstrations after a massive dynamite explosion smashed the half-million-dollar Hattie Cotton Grammar School in the early morning. The newly integrated school was empty at the time. Attendance at five other racially mixed schools dropped sharply after word of the explosion spread.

The blast followed steadily mounting violence which accompanied admission of 15 Negro first-graders to the formerly all-white schools Monday.

In Newport, R. I., White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen that President Eisenhower thought the dynamiting of the Nashville school was "a terrible thing."

The President arranged a meeting with Secretary of Agriculture Benson who then will return to Washington from a speaking engagement at the military academy at West Point, N. Y.

During the morning the President talked by telephone with

LAWRENCE CO. CASE

New Castle, (P)—A Lawrence County grand jury is expected to report its findings tonight in an investigation of conspiracy and criminal libel charges against eight New Castle residents. The eight are accused of circulating libelous literature about candidates for public office prior to last May's primary election. Thirteen more witnesses testified yesterday in the second day of the grand jury session. Twelve testified the first day.

Howard Grotzinger, owner of the Warren Drug Store, is in Philadelphia today attending the semi-annual meeting of the Surgical Pharmacy Guild (an organization composed of some 200 of the largest drug stores in the Eastern United States).

The major share of the session will be devoted to a demonstration by manufacturers of the latest types of equipment and supplies necessary for sick, disabled and post-operative patients in their homes (while recuperating from illness or surgery).

Another feature shown Guild members will be a conducted tour of the country's largest wholesale drug house, Smith, Kline and French, Inc., in their newly built plant in The Quaker City. This particular plant, incidentally, is probably the most modern of its type.

Thanks to progress, many worries as to general good health or sick-room care, are today easily solved. If you read front page headlines, you're acquainted with "Asiatie Flu"; if you're concerned with chronic invalids or temporary ones, it's likely that you've been seeking power equipment. As for the "asiatic flu", you're protected locally, and as to sickroom or other vital devices, you're all set!

What's in a name? If your name happens to be "Tim" Creal, you're known as a champion golfer, and the same is true if your name is Mary Conarro. Should you draw weird but wonderful cartoons for The New Yorker magazine or other publications, your name must be Charles Adams and if you're on the committee for the October 5th costume party at the CVCC, you're hoping that the entire membership will join the fun and attend "The Charles Adams Affair".

If you're a well-dressed gentleman, you'll recognize and appreciate the name "Dan Richards". If you're not acquainted with this famous name in men's suits, by all means stop in and let The Style Shop introduce you to "the best in menswear". No need to tell you that it's time for a new suit—you know it!

But—be sure to find it at The Style Shop.

Burgess Face will be among those who drive Boy Scouts of Troop 9 to Simcoe, Canada over the weekend. The venture has become an annual affair and it's likely that "His Worship", Harry Carter of Simcoe, will be around to greet the local lads (He and his lovely wife were in Warren for last year's July 4th parade).

Reminder for Vets To Be Registered

Harrisburg—Colonel William B. Freeland, Deputy Adjutant General for Veterans Affairs of the Pennsylvania Department of Military Affairs reminds all veterans that to be eligible to vote November 5, 1957 on an amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania making it possible for the Commonwealth to increase its indebtedness in order to pay a bonus to Veterans of the Korean Conflict, you must be registered on or before September 16, 1957.

The only exception to this rule is in the case of a veteran who is bedridden or hospitalized due to illness or physical disability contracted or suffered in connection with or as the result of military service. According to Act 316 approved and signed by Governor George M. Leader July 8, 1957 persons in the above category, . . . "may vote under the provisions of this act in any election held in this Commonwealth if he is (1) unavoidably absent from the state or county of his residence regardless of whether he is registered or enrolled or (2) in the county of residence and is registered and enrolled."

Colonel Freeland then said, "Payment authorized by the 'Korean Veterans Compensation Act' cannot be made until funds are provided. An amendment to the Constitution authorizing the sale of bonds to secure funds for this purpose will be decided upon by the electors at the polls during the 1957 elections on November 5." In further discussion of the amendment to be voted upon, Colonel Freeland said, "The people of Pennsylvania have always been very generous to those who in times of danger have been willing to risk their future and even their lives to protect our way of life. Veterans of the Spanish-American War, World War I and World War II were given a monetary consideration by a grateful Commonwealth." Colonel Freeland continued, "I feel that the people should in all fairness, continue this policy on behalf of the Veterans of the Korean Conflict."

It is suggested that you remember the following date as it is important to the future welfare of many thousands of Pennsylvanians. September 16, 1957 is the last day to register in order to be able to vote on November 5.

An Open Letter to Parents Of Retarded Children

Statistics show that three out of every one hundred children born are mentally retarded. You are not alone with your problem. There are many parents like you with children who deviate from what society calls "normal". There are various degrees of handicap from the severely retarded to the almost normal. In the past there wasn't too much that could be done for your child. Now the situation is changing. Parents of the mentally retarded are on the march, and their ranks are growing every day. With the formation of more and more parent groups, with a firm desire to help all retarded children, regardless of the degree of handicap, and with the formation of a strong State and National Parent Association there is now help and guidance waiting for you.

By joining with other parents of the Warren County Association for Retarded Children you will find that talking over your problems with other parents who have similar problems can be of great help. You will discover how much not how little your child can learn.

You can make facilities available where there are none. You can help the mildly retarded find a fuller and happier life and become well adjusted, useful citizens.

By joining the Warren County Chapter, you will receive the newspaper, Children Limited, published quarterly by the National Association. It will keep you informed on the latest developments across the country. You will learn latest in research, legislation, and of helpful publications.

Accept your child with his limitations, be sure he knows he is loved and wanted and has a secure place in the family. Remember there are two partners, Father and Mother in the raising of all children.

Our meetings are held the third Tuesday of each month at 8:00 p. m. in the Social Rooms of the Warren County Dairy, 100 Lookout street. The first meeting of the coming season will be September 17th when a recording entitled "An Inspirational Reading" by Dale Evans will be heard.

CORYDON

Corydon—Eleven members were present Monday evening for the regular meeting of Corydon Grange, with Pomona Grange Master David Curtis as guest speaker. After his brief but interesting and helpful talk, refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Funk, Warren, were hosts for a buffet supper honoring his birthday and that of his brother, Henry C. Funk, of West Chester. The pleasant affair was held at the Warren couple's summer home on their oil lease at Brown Run, and each honored one was presented with a decorated birthday cake. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. William Brenton, Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson, Bradford; Mrs. Henry Funk, West Chester; Mrs. G. A. Prue, Nell J. Caldwell, Corydon.

Mrs. Clyde Spetz, Dunkirk has been a recent visitor of the W. P. Brownes.

Mr. and Mrs. John Corrigan, Buffalo, were Saturday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. George Tome.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gould, Warren, were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde English.

From Paris Comes the Shorter Skirt

From the current Paris collections for fall and winter come these new designs which show the shorter length. Coat (left) is by Pierre Cardin, is in a soft serge of wool, orlon and rabbit hair. This is a slim coat with rounded shoulders that tapers at the hemline in barrel effect. It's worn here with fur scarf. Easy daytime ensemble by Jean Patou (right) is in one of the bulky-looking, rough-textured tweeds. This one is orlon and wool in beige-and-black, is actually lightweight. Skirt is box-pleated for panel effect. Suit is worn with fur scarf.—By ROSEETTE MARGROVE, NEA Staff Correspondent, Paris.

Open Letter to Education

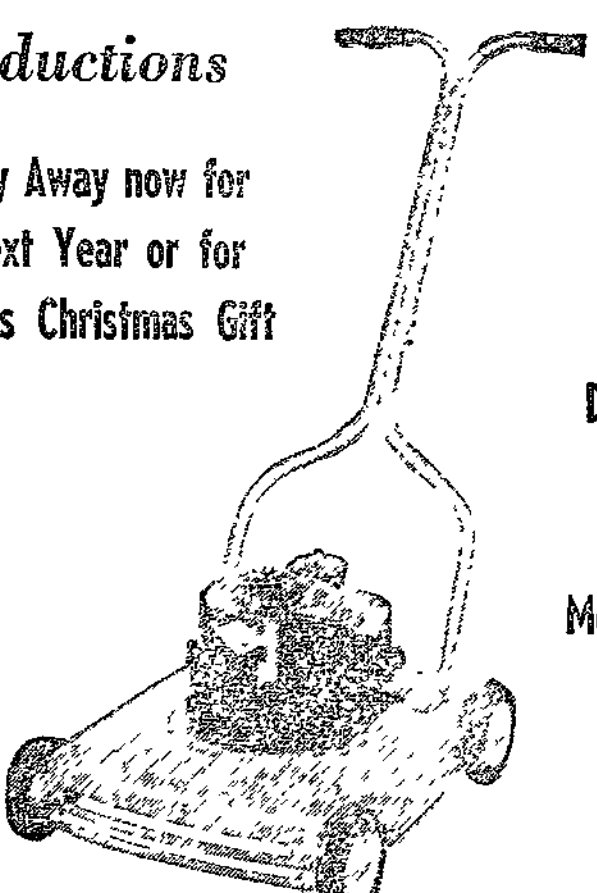

Parents of retarded children appreciate the opportunities Warren has given their children educationally. Members of our educational system had the foresight to establish special classes far in advance of many other communities. They have striven to provide especially trained personnel to teach these classes with the firm conviction that retarded children have the right to be and can be taught.

Today Warren affords a program of special education ranging from simple self-help skills in the Trainable Class to more academic training in the Educable Classes. We are proud of the people responsible for guaranteeing our children their educational Bill of Rights.

More violent resistance was met at the fifth.

Youngsville—Lady Gray Rebekah Lodge nominated the following officers at its regular meeting: Noble grand, Mildred Anderson; vice grand, Viola Walters; recording secretary, Ethel Tuley; financial secretary, Edys Wimer; treasurer, Betty Knapp; trustee, Meredith Wise.

Canasta and five hundred were played during the social hour. Berna Dyer winning high in the former, Georgia Kinnear, low. In five hundred, Ruth Byers was high scorer; Vella Dyke, low. Refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Lois Mahen, Melva Richards, and Georgia Wright.

Mrs. Wade Ransom and Mrs. Harland McAllister attended a Neighborhood meeting in Marienville Monday to help them plan their County Girl Scout Drive.

There was a get-together in the back yard of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Johnson Sunday to plan revival of the Anderson reunion. Thirty people were present from Lake City, Jamestown, Warren, Corry, and Cherry Grove, besides Youngsville. They elected the following officers: President, Hilding Lundahl, Warren; secretary, Mrs. Carl Frederickson, Lake City; historian, Louella Anderson, Jamestown. A tureen ham dinner was served. The reunion will be held next year on the first Sunday in August in Lake City.

Wade Ransom, Clifford Wing and son, Bobby, and Bill Laufferberger went to Pittsburgh Sunday to see the ball game between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

September Reports As Submitted To Borough Council

At Monday night's Council meeting, the following reports were released by Borough Manager George Geracimos:

Police Department reported 263 arrests during August with 21 accidents reported amounting to $4625 in property damage. They investigated 17 accidents; recovered $2215 in stolen goods; answered 142 calls; and gave one talk.

Borough Fire Department answered a total of 25 calls during the month with a total loss of $1450. All fire hydrants have been painted and a new hose rack installed at Engine No. 2.

Public Works Department rebuilt 126 feet of curb with 11 other services to driveways and service cuts; all dirt streets patched. Except for spraying the flooring, painting on Third and Fifth avenue bridges completed for the season. Twenty-two traffic signs and meter posts were installed; 44 feet of new walk constructed.

Park Department reported that high grass along the river bank in Crescent Park has been scythed once. Dutch Elm cantuied one Elm tree in Crescent which was removed. War Memorial Field has been aerified twice during the month. The three flagpoles on the field have been painted and the painting of the corrugated metal fence is being continued. The bleachers have been moved onto the football gridiron for use this fall.

Eight communicable diseases were reported by the Board of Health, 8 houses quarantined, 11 released from same, and 191 visits were made by the Health Officer.

Stainless Steel To Resist Air Friction New Development

New York (AP)—Armco Steel Corp reports it has developed a stainless steel to resist air friction heat.

The new steel, called PH-7 MO, will enable planes and missiles to fly in air friction heat of 1,000 degrees, hitting speeds of 2,720 miles an hour or four times the speed of sound, Armco said.

The unofficial speed record holder, the experimental X2 rocket plane, encountered heat of 700 degrees at 2,260 miles an hour. As planes fly faster, heat from air friction robs aircraft materials of their strength.

The company said the new steel will be used mainly for skins and major structural parts.

R. L. Gray, Armco president, said in a statement the company is spending approximately 70 million dollars for improvement and expansion of its Butler, Pa., works to speed production of the new steel and other highly specialized steels.

In addition to high strength at supersonic speeds and low costs, Gray said the new steel's outstanding qualities are assured production in volume, ease of fabrication and corrosion resistance.

Gray called the new steel "the most outstanding development in precipitation hardening stainless steels since Armco began pioneering in these revolutionary metals in 1948."

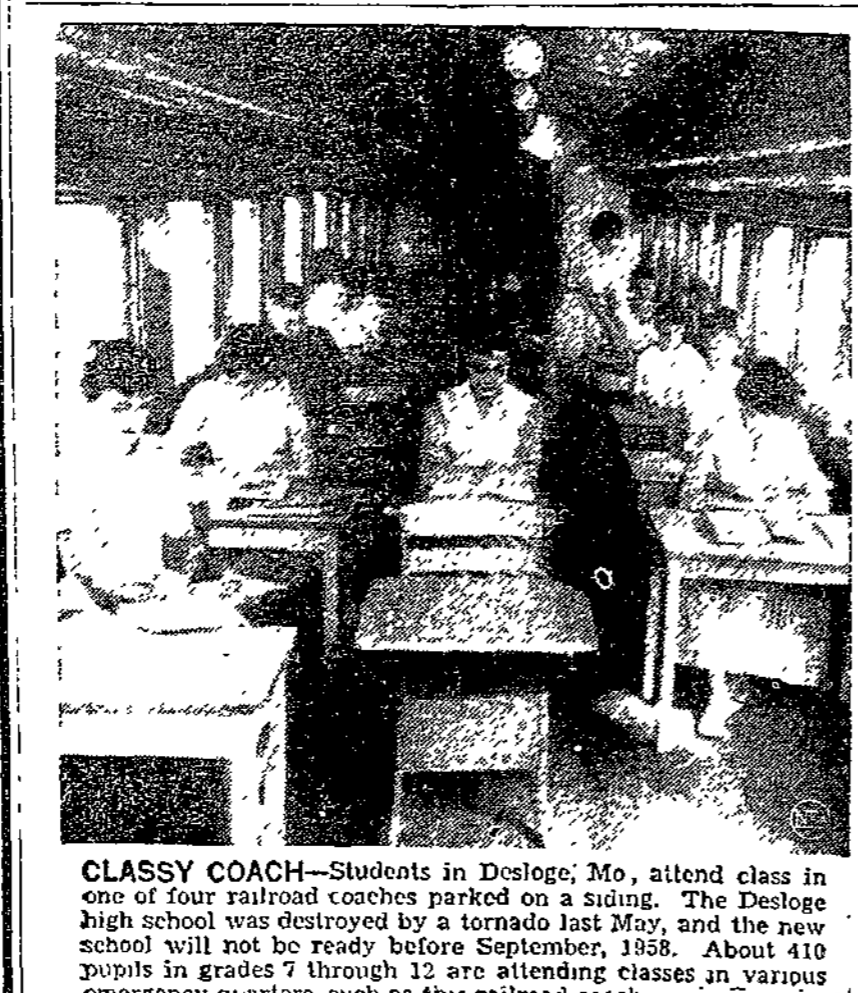

Cost of the new steel, he added, is less than one-tenth that of high strength titanium alloys.

The new steel is made in conventional electric furnaces and rolled on continuous strip mills.

IRVINE

Community Ambassador Tells Of Last Days of Her Tour

September 4

Dear Friends:
The last two weeks which I spent in Switzerland were filled with tours and meetings to complete our picture of the country. Basel is the center of the drug and dye industry in Europe, therefore we visited a large drum manufacturing concern. We inspected a watch factory and at 4 a. m. one morning called on a bakery where some of these de-

DAWN TAFT licious pastries which we had been sampling all summer were being made. One morning was spent in a girl's gymnasium, comparable to our high school. There I observed a biology class, a first year English class, and a third year English class. Both of the English teachers had studied in England and the pronunciation of the students was decidedly British.

Miss Hayes, the Jamestown Community Ambassador, and I presented the keys of our respective cities to the President of the Basel City Council and in return received a beautiful picture book of the city. We were also the guests of the Basel Rotarians with whom we exchanged greetings. At the luncheon were seven students from Sweden, Denmark, Holland, and England who had been studying in Switzerland for the summer and two gentlemen from California and Indiana who were most interested in the details of the Experiment organization.

The last week of August was set aside for independent travel so three of our group spent three days in Paris and then took a boat across the English Channel for two days in London. In our compartment on the train from Paris to Calais was a family emigrating from Israel to Wales. She had gone to Israel as a tourist eight years ago, with her husband, a Polish refugee, and now they were bringing their children away from the fear and unrest of that troubled area.

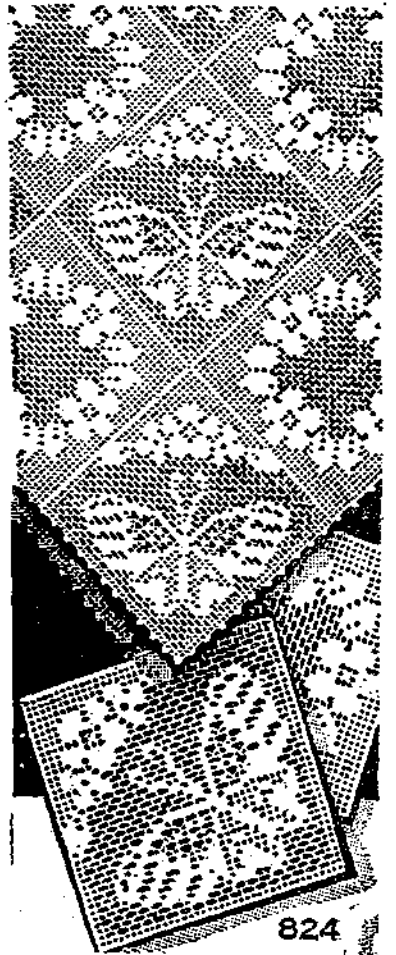

It was hard for all of us to say good-bye to our Swiss families and friends. Little Franz, who had understood little of what I had said during the summer, ran the full length of the platform waving good-bye, and Henri, who at 6 was too much of a man to do so at the station, gave me a most embarrassing kiss in the taxi. There is not enough that I can say in praise of the Experiment program. In my opinion there is no better way to visit a country for the first time. Here one comes to know and grows very close to the people and their ways.

I am most anxious to share my impressions with the various groups who have made this trip possible and may be reached at 307 Market street or by calling 4433R. May I extend my warmest thanks to the people of Warren for this most valuable of experiences.

Sincerely,

Your Community Ambassador

New Vehicle License Plan Will Be in Effect in State in 1958

The first major change in the State's registration system in the 51-year history of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles will go into effect next year when Pennsylvania vehicle owners receive semi-permanent five-year license plates for the first time.

The administration approved use of the new plates last April 26. They predicted that the new system would save the Commonwealth $1,363,000 over a five-year period.

Beginning next year, the Bureau of Motor Vehicles will issue one aluminum registration plate (with yellow numerals on a blue background) which will be used for five years, or through 1962. Validation tabs, also aluminum, will be issued yearly starting in 1959. The renewal tab will be bolted to the license plate, which will be attached to the rear of the vehicle as at present.

Vehicle registration procedure is unchanged. Applications for the new plates and registration cards will be mailed out by the Bureau early in February, 1958. Registration cards and license plates will be mailed to vehicle owners as soon as possible after the completed application and the $10 registration fee are returned. Tags may be placed on vehicles after March 15 and must be displayed on vehicles by midnight, March 31.

The AAA - Pennsylvania Motor Federation and the Warren County Motor Club will continue to provide members with registration service which will be essentially the same as in the past years. The member should bring his application and $10 fee to the motor club. The club will mail the application and fee to the PMF License Department for processing. The member can pick up his registration plate and card at the club.

The initial cost of issuing aluminum license plates will be more expensive than the steel plate now in use, but it is anticipated that savings during the following four years in the manufacture of only validation tabs, coupled with a reduction in postage charges, will save the State a minimum of $1,363,000. The State expects to save this amount despite an anticipated increase of 500,000 registrations from 1958 through 1962.

The State estimated that the cost of issuing steel plates annually for the next five years would be $4,121,891. This compares to an estimated $2,758,481 that would be spent to issue the new aluminum plate and renewal tabs from 1958 to 1962.

The aluminum tags for 1959 will cost the State 1875 cents each, compared to 1265 cents each for the steel tag. But the renewal tabs will cost only three-and-one-half cents each and postage on them is only a cent-and-a-half.

Postage for steel plates is six cents, and postage for the 1958 aluminum tag will be four cents. Following approval of the new system, an administration spokesman said:

"We have conducted an extensive survey on the merits of this program. It has been discussed with motor vehicle administrators in states where the semi-permanent system is now working. I am convinced it is not only a sound move administratively but is also one that will appeal to every tax conscious Pennsylvania motorist."

Daytime Dresses Get Drapery

Fall and winter fashions from London emphasize both silhouette and fabric. Dinner dress (left) by Ronald Paterson is photographed in front of London's Big Ben. The fabric is a mixture of textured silk, acrilan and worsted crepe. Waistline is slightly dropped and is emphasized by hip draping that tapers to a narrow hemline. Dramatic black dinner dress by Charles Creed (center) has halter top bare to the waistline in back. It was photographed in front of the Albert Memorial, Kensington Gardens. Fabric is a mixture of acrilan, wool and silk. Worth does an ensemble (right) in basketweave silk acrilan and wool. Skirt has peg top drape and shoulders of jacket follow the natural body lines. This was photographed at Hyde Park Corner. All three designs are by top British designers and all three show subtle drapery.

LONDON—(NEA)—The semi-fitted and supple silhouette is the one that top British designers like best this fall. Chez Ronald Paterson suit jackets have soft, wide shoulder lines and are tapered at the hip-line. Coats have much the same shoulder lines and either are straight or tapered to a fairly narrow hemline. This designer likes the easy or bloused bodice in combination with a slim skirt for daytime dresses. Some of these are shown with matching boxy jackets.

His short evening gowns frequently have slim skirts and bodices with more cover-up than in the past.

At Hardy Amies, suit jackets have set-in sleeves and lightly padded shoulders. Many of these get fur trim in collars and cuffs. Coats are semi-fitted or straight. He shows slum daytime dresses, many of these with hip drapery.

Victor Stiebel likes what he calls the "needle line" and shows it in suits with semi-fitted jackets and slim skirts. These have inset sleeves and some shoulder padding.

His wool daytime dresses have very narrow skirts but sometimes offer hipline drapery as a softening measure. While he shows the regulation ball gown for evening, he also shows the floor-length slim evening sheath, usually strapless.

Yankees Collecting Injuries As the White Sox Garner Defeats

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

American League pennant race at a glance: New York's Yankees collect injuries, but Chicago's White Sox collect defeats.

It was that way again last night as the Yankees, rained out in a game with Cleveland, regained a six-game lead when the White Sox took a 7-4 beating at Boston.

Bill Skowron, who pulled a back muscle while working at home yesterday, was on the bench with Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra—the Yankees' three top RBI men—as the champs sloshed through the better part of four frames before the game finally was called with Cleveland leading 2-0.

In the National, Milwaukee's Braves moved closer to a World Series date with the Yankees by defeating Pittsburgh 4-3 while second-place St. Louis battled Philadelphia through 14 innings before winning 4-3.

Third-place Brooklyn skidded eight games behind with a 9-2 trouncing from the Chicago Cubs, and Cincinnati defeated the New York Giants 4-1 in the other NL games.

The rest of the AL schedule also was washed out.

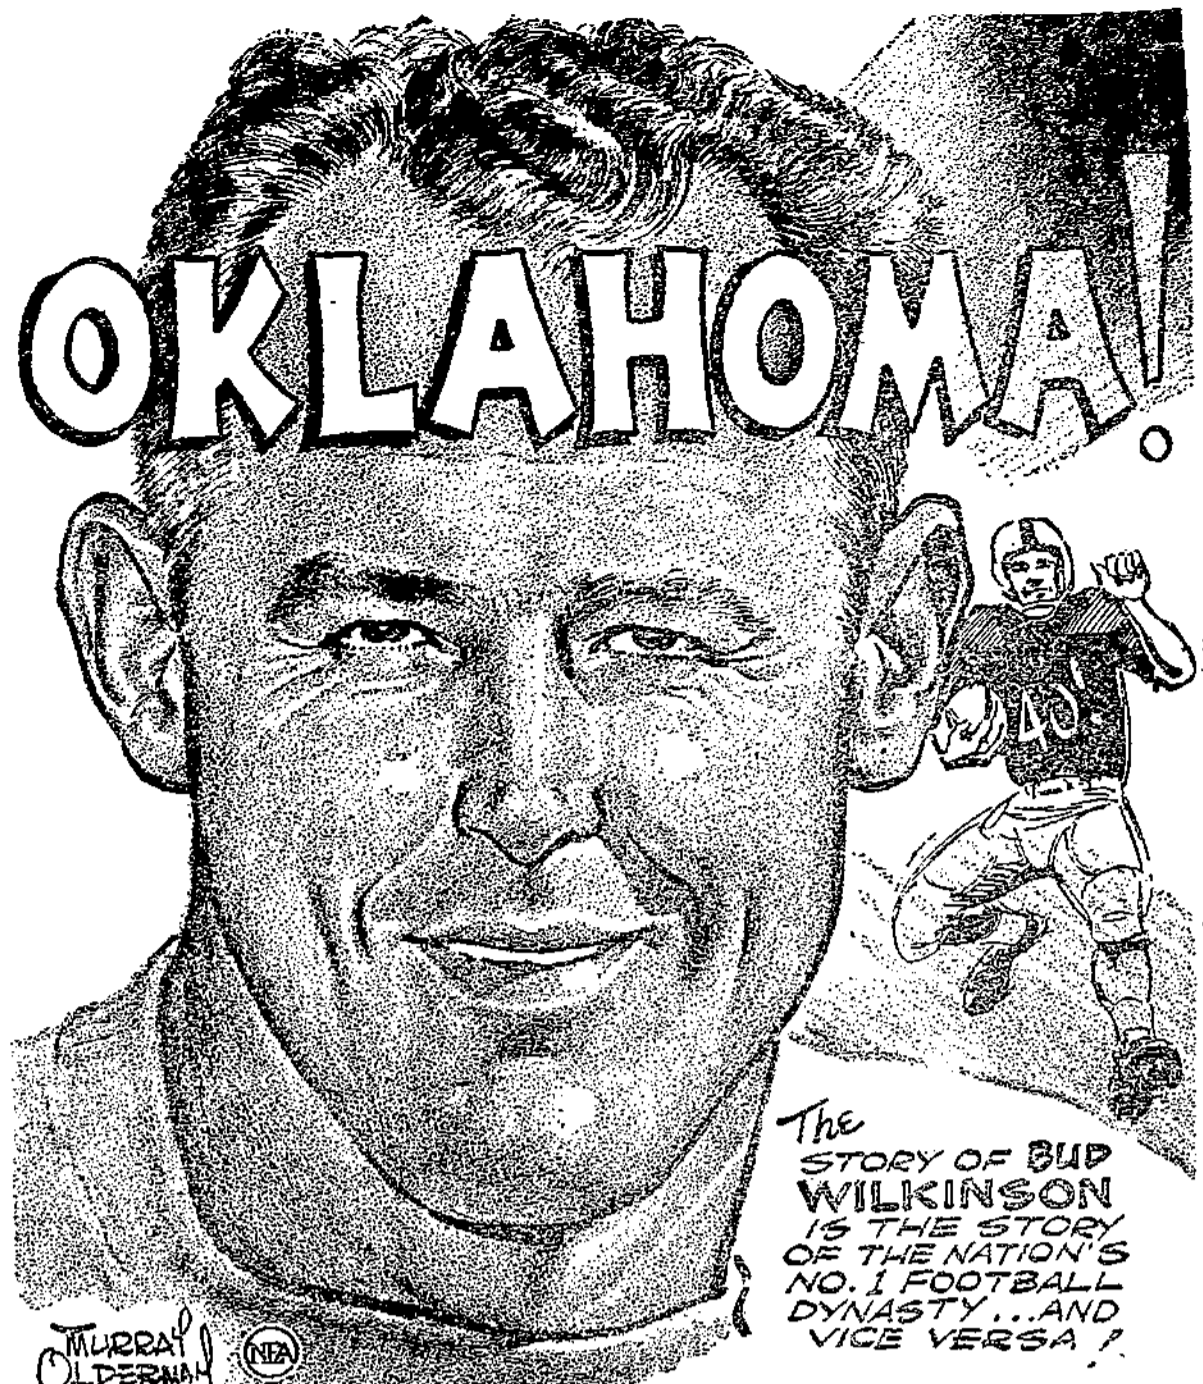

The Braves were out-hit 12-8, but got the job done with the help of Hank Aaron and Eddie Mathews, who had five hits between them. They paired home runs in the fourth—Aaron's 40th, Mathews added an RBI single in the seventh that nailed a 15th victory for Lew Burdette.

Whammy Douglas lost it, giving up the two home runs that gave the Braves 182 for the season—matching their all-time high set in 1955.

The Cardinals continued their big try on Ken Boyer's bases—loaded single in the 14th—which dumped Robin Roberts to his first 20-defeat year.

Lindy McDaniel, Lloyd Merritt, Billy Muffett and Larry Jackson pitched six shutout relief frames for the Cards after the Phils finally overhauled a 3-0 St. Louis lead and chased starter Sam Jones with an eight-inning run. McDaniel was the winner for a 14-3 record.

Cardinal Stan Musial showed up as a pinchhitter—the two clubs used 40 players—and hit into a forceout.

Dodgers' Coast Park Won't Be Finished for Two Years

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES—(NEA)—The answer as to whether Walter O'Malley is definitely committed to establish a new broad jump record by moving the Dodgers from Brooklyn to L.A. is "no."

"Only by strong implication," says Mayor Norris Poulson, who started the whole business and believes it will go through.

"O'Malley is in the position of a man who tells his wife he doesn't love her any more and walks out," adds Mayor Poulson, a ruddy-faced, bespectacled man who believes his 62 years. "The man has to find another home. O'Malley has practically talked himself out of Brooklyn."

O'Malley also may have talked himself and his ball club into a jam. Common conception is that Los Angeles has its hand in its pocket to cater to everything O'Malley needs. That's far from the truth. And if he doesn't move? Well, New York administrators were not, at last report, ready to give him Central Park.

Bill Peer, New York Mayor Robert Wagner's assistant, says the Dodger move is "all snafued." He also feels that the coast looks "less inviting" for O'Malley now than the Dodgers' present digs—Ebbets Field.

FOR ONE THING, all the Brooklyn club would get out here is 200 acres of land that cost a fortune to improve. And this would be in exchange for O'Malley-owned Wrigley Field.

Then you have the matter of time. All along it has been said that the Dodgers would have to spend only one season at the current Wrigley Field, which seats only 21,460 and has parking space for no more than 265 cars.

Well, I have news for you. If work started tomorrow morning, which it won't, it would take a full two years to prepare rough Chavez Ravine and build a new stadium.

MEANWHILE, THE DODGERS would be stuck with Wrigley Field. There is talk of playing weekends in the mammoth Los Angeles Coliseum, but baseball customers hardly would be comfortable in its straight back board seats.

Now, a look at the political aspects. I don't know what the politicians promised O'Malley to lure him out here in the first place, but they sure are talking tougher now that they believe they have him on the hook.

"This is not horse trading," says Mayor Poulson, a hardened campaigner who knows his way around after five terms in Congress. "The Dodgers will come only on a basis we can all live with."

"The stadium will be built by O'Malley with private capital and at no cost to taxpayers," stresses Kenneth Hahn, a politically ambitious 36-year-old county supervisor.

"O'MALLEY WILL PROVIDE" all improvements in addition to the stadium except for access roads which the city and county are obligated to provide to the site, anyway.

Chavez Ravine's only advantage is its proximity to downtown Los Angeles. It is sparsely settled by underprivileged people, a section strangely passed up in the tremendous growth of Los Angeles. Hills must be bulldozed down and valleys filled. Five miles of roads and streets must be constructed to make the proposed new park accessible. And even then engineers foresee the world's worst traffic jam. It's worth your life getting on the Pasadena Freeway now and Sunset Boulevard, only a quarter of a mile away, would have to be widened. Mayor Poulson says that the Brooklyn club eventually will get even through increase in value of the 200 acres. "But it's going to take a lot of fixin'."

Penn State Campus Picking Lions To Win Nine Contests

University Park (P) — Penn State's football hopes in the coming season will hinge on the breaks, contends Coach Rip Engle—never a pre-season optimist.

But the unofficial expectations on the Penn State campus have the Nittany Lions a 7-2 winner in 9 games. The question marks are Army and Pitt. The Nittany Lions have already been tabbed as among the top three in the East by many pre-season forecasters.

"We haven't hit our stride yet," Engle declared. "There are two many bothersome setbacks."

"But," he added, "I believe we'll get there. With the breaks we'll do all right in our league."

Engle said he will use a double-barreled offense again this year. The system was highly successful last year, particularly in the school's upset victory over Ohio State and the tie with Pitt. State lost only its opener to Army and a close game to Syracuse.

Four sophomores are counted as exceptionally promising. All four saw heavy action last year on the undefeated Penn State freshman squad.

They are Earl Kohlhaas, center, who made The Associated Press All State Scholastic Football Team two years running; Pat Boutla, a halfback; Andy Stynchula, tackle; and Richie Lucas, quarterback.

TURNED BACK—Negro students rebuffed at the doors of North Little Rock (Ark.) High School said they'll try again. The school's principal, George E. Miller, stopped the first try. A crowd of whites barricaded the doors on the second attempt. Integration has been ordered at the school but postponed by the school board.

Martinez and Baker Will Meet Tonight In Chicago Ring

Chicago (AP)—New York's Larry Baker tries to solidify his claim as the ring's upset king of the year by aiming for victory tonight over Vince Martinez, No. 4 welterweight contender.

Martinez, a 28-year-old slugger with 28 knockouts to his credit, is a 12-5 choice.

The Paterson, N. J., battler, who scored two impressive victories this year over former champion Kid Gavilan, will be making his first Chicago showing since he knocked Chuck Davey into retirement three years ago. He has won 56 out of 61 bouts and never has been kayoed.

Another triumph for the colorful Martinez would set him up for any elimination bouts for the 147-pound crown should champ Carmen Basilio defeat Ray Robinson and win the middleweight title in their scrap Sept. 23.

Winter Schedule In YM Physical Dep't Already Under Way

The 1957-58 winter schedule of the YMCA Physical Department has been released today.

Classes for all members will begin immediately.

Cadet I (beginners) will meet Wednesdays at 3:45 and Saturdays at 9:00. Cadet II will have gym and swim on Tuesdays at 3:45 and Saturday morning at 10:30.

Junior gym and swim class will meet on Mondays and Fridays at 3:45.

Older Boys gym and swim class will be held on Wednesday and Friday at 4:00.

Plans for Volleyball, Handball and City League Basketball are being formulated. Any seniors interested in these particular sports—please contact Bob Hammerbeck at the "Y".

Thursday afternoon will again be reserved for girls. The girls beginners will meet at 3:30. Girl swimmers will meet at 4:30 and 5:15. Due to the large enrollment of this class, it will be necessary to hold two separate sessions. Girls passing the swimmers test given by Bob Hammerbeck will have their choice of either the 4:30 class or the 5:15 class.

The class for women will again meet on Tuesday nights at 8:00.

Two entirely new activities will be introduced this year. First there will be a boxing class conducted on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7:00. Joe Fazio will instruct this class and anyone interested in learning the art of boxing should contact Bob Hammerbeck at the "Y". All boys must be 16 years or over.

The second new activity will be a Junior Basketball League for seventh and eighth graders. More information on this league will be announced later.

Also on the winter schedule will be the usual "Y" teens swim, crippled children swim, scout swim and the popular Red Cross Life Saving courses (Juniors and Seniors).

Plans for Gra "Y" basketball, High School swim and Family nights swims are in the making and will complete the schedule.

By The Associated Press

Denver—Alex Miteff, 205, Argentina, knocked out Johnny Holman, 204, Chicago, 9.

Philadelphia—Harold Johnson, 181, Philadelphia, outpointed Wayne Bethea, 197, New York, 10.

Miami Beach—Willie Pastrano, 191½, Miami, stopped George Peyton, 192, Houston, Tex., 8.

Phoenix, Ariz.—Zora Polley, 194, Chandler, Ariz., outpointed Monroe Ratliff, 180, Los Angeles, 10.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press

Hitting—Ed Mathews, Braves, had three hits in three trips, including his 31st home run and a seventh-inning single that knocked in the winning run in 4-3 victory over the Pirates.

Pitching — Brooks Lawrence, Redlegs, won his fourth in a row with a three-hitter, pitching a shut-out over the last eight frames for 4-1 victory over the Giants.

Coach of Sooners Declares His Team Has "Over Trained"

Norman, Okla. (AP)—Coach Bud Wilkinson said today his Oklahoma Sooners have worked so hard preparing for their football opener Sept. 21 at Pittsburgh they have "become dull". He ordered a letup in the practice schedule.

Wilkinson also said he does not believe pressure of being the defending national champion with pre-season rave notices — and a 40-game victory streak still intact — has affected his Sooners.

Oklahoma has topped every opponent since October, 1953, when Pittsburgh fought the Sooners to a 7-7 draw. For two straight years Oklahoma has won the national championship, and many experts are predicting an unprecedented third consecutive crown.

Wilkinson said today none of his players was seriously hurt but that many have "bumps and bruises" and all are extremely tired. He dropped the squad back to one-a-day practice after 10 days of grueling morning and afternoon workouts.

Los Angeles Mayor Is Keeping Lonely Vigil at Telephone

By JOE REICHLER

New York (AP)—Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson kept a lonely vigil by the telephone today anxiously awaiting word from Walter O'Malley, Brooklyn Dodgers president, whether the Dodgers were or were not moving to California.

Openly pessimistic now about chances of getting the defending National League champions after having joyously declared only last May that "We've got the Dodgers," Poulson promised he would seek a "yes" or a "no" answer from O'Malley before the end of the National Conference of Mayors convention here today.

The double disclosure yesterday that Nelson A. Rockefeller had offered to buy into the Dodgers to keep them in New York City and City Hall's findings that it can legally acquire land for a new Dodger stadium admittedly was taken as a serious blow by the California mayor. He stubbornly insisted, however, that the door was not yet closed.

Veteran Claims Golf Is Game for All Ages

Brookline, Mass. (AP) — Chick Evans, still winning championship golf matches at 67, hopes to prove golf is a game for all ages. And he'd like to see players with an age span of 30 to 40 years have a chance to win the National Amateur championship, not just "the young and strong".

Evans is holding up his end very well so far, although he maintains he has no right to go any farther in the 57th title tournament at The Country Club. The young and strong are doing pretty well, too.

As the tournament entered the two-round daily stage today, 15 of the 64 remaining players were 21 or younger. Not the least of them was Ward Wetlaufer, 21, a Hamilton, N. Y., college junior who turned in a resounding upset when he knocked out Billy Joe Patton on the 19th hole of their second round match.

Champ Sugar Ray Plans Court Right After Basilio Fight

Philadelphia (AP)—Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson plans a court fight with the New York State Athletic Commission after his ring battle with Carmen Basilio Sept. 23.

Robinson, here for an exhibition at the Harold Johnson-Wayne Bethea fight last night, said he'll challenge the commission's official contract form for fights.

"I think it's time somebody made the commission show cause that it has a right to compel a fighter to give away his constitutional rights to a promoter," Robinson declared.

The champion recently won a dispute with the International Boxing Club over television rights for the Basilio bout. Robinson threatened to call off the bout unless the IBC agreed to his demands.

The IBC, after a meeting with the boxing commission, guaranteed Sugar Ray a minimum of $225,000 from the theater TV arrangements. The agreement also provided a $110,000 guarantee for Basilio.
